

Princeton Public Library Gifts Policy

Gifts to the Library

The library greatly appreciates monetary and in-kind donations, large and small, freely given in the spirit of generosity. However, the library reserves the right to refuse unsolicited and unwanted gifts and donations given to the library or Friends of the Library at any time, for any reason. Any item gifted to the library may be kept or disposed of as the library sees fit. Donations to the library must be given without condition, including expectations of donor recognition or permanent display.
